VOTERS' REGISTRATION SLOW; IS PROOF SPECIAL CAMPAIGN NEEDED

William Thompson Says Valuable Work Can Be Done By Republican Organization

With hardly a larger registration of voters on Oahu—the city and county of Honolulu—than two years ago, it is evident to men well informed in local politics that there are hundreds still unregistered.

William Thompson has collected some statistics and uses them as an argument that the Republican organization should get busy and see that more prospective voters are registered. The figures he has secured are the registration of voters by nationalities for 1914 and for 1916 up to the present date, and are as follows:

	1914	1916
Hawaiian	3677	3708
Part Hawaiian	1453	1472
American	2340	2378
Portuguese	1053	1063
Chinese	537	542
Japanese	30	33
British	436	444
Other Nationalities	372	376

Total 9898 10,016
"These figures," he says, "show an increase of only 118 voters added to the great register in the past 22 months and if you deduct the deaths and those who have left the country during this same period, the chances are that we will have a smaller number of actual voters on the great register than we had two years ago. The extraordinary number of people of voting age who have come to the territory and who are qualified to vote along with the young Hawaiians and those of other nationalities who have come of age in the meantime should be some after, and no greater work lies before the new Republican central committee than that of interesting these people in the progressive principles of the Republican party. Precinct clubs all over the islands should inaugurate a vigorous campaign of education with the object of enrolling members and seeing to it that these same men register."

For those unregistered the following information as to how to get their names on the great register is of value:
Time—8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., except Saturday (closes then at noon) until September 16. On that date the register closes for primary election, opening October 9 for general election, closing October 16.

Place—City and county clerk's office, McIntyre building, corner Fort and King street.

Qualifications for voting in territory: Must be of age (20 years old, in Hawaii), must be American citizen, must have resided in territory not less than one year, or if discharged from U. S. service, one year from date of discharge; must have resided in representative district three months.

NEW SODA WATER COMPANY MAKES PURITY SLOGAN

"O. K." Brand Stands for Use of Liquid Made Perfect for Use

Water, if not pure, or as nearly so as science can make it, is a dangerous foe. Pure water is the most essential requisite. Only pure water should be used for drinking and cooking purposes. According to scientists, rain, when leaving the clouds, is the only pure water offered by nature. Nature's evaporator is a wonderful act of distillation. The warm sun shines upon the bitter salt sea, drawing up therefrom a pure vapor which, after a purification, falls to the earth as rain, forming pools, springs and rivers. Why should not this water that has fallen from the clouds be freely used for drinking and cooking? Because the earth is full of impurities—decomposed vegetable matter, soluble earth, clay and other substances and lastly, poisonous emanations (nitrates and nitrites) from animals and man. Any of these impurities may be found in any water, even the clearest. The Liletic Gazette, New York, says: "Dangerously contaminated water may be, and often is, found to be clear and colorless, and to have no bad taste."

"Filtered water." That sounds really sanitary. Filters offer no sure protection, it is held, as they simply clear the water of earthy matter without removing the more dangerous impurities. Filtered water may be as clear as crystal and still be as deadly as anything which may enter the body. Prof. Folkard, an expert on germs, says of them, "Thousands may exist in one drop of water. Where water can go, the germ of typhoid or cholera can go. They will go through the pores of any filter 100 and more abreast."

Now steps in science and borrows from nature her method of distillation, and people have thereby a pure water. When water is boiled, as in a tea kettle, the steam passes off. If that steam could be caught in a cold vessel it would at once change to distilled water. There can be no germs in steam. Distilled water leaves all germs, no matter how small, behind, and issues pure water.

The "O. K." Distilled Soda Water Company has just opened for business in its new, modern and thoroughly sanitary factory on north School street, where the latest in machinery and apparatus have been installed, and where every drop of soda water is made from distilled water. This gives a foundation for the pure fruit flavors and extracts that go to build a healthful, sparkling beverage, pure in every sense of the word.

This city consumes about 18,000 bottles of soda water a day.

The new soda water company employs nothing but the most scientifically distilled water in the manufacture of the numerous flavored drinks it is putting on the market. A cordial invitation is extended to anybody and everybody to visit this new soda factory and see for themselves the absolute cleanliness that is and must be observed about the premises by those engaged in the manufacture of a pure soda water.

LOCAL PARTIES BUY CONTROL OF MINE IN NEVADA

Following Report of Arthur G. Smith, Honoluluans Secure Ely Property

As the result of an examination and report made by Arthur G. Smith, deputy attorney general, a hui of Honolulu people has obtained control of the Blaine mine near Ely Nevada.

Before Smith went to the mainland he was asked to visit the Blaine mine property, sample and report. This he did and the nine samples he took were assayed by Smith Emery & Company of San Francisco. Their assays ran from $10.92 to $64.40, and following the report of Attorney Smith and of the assayers, the local people purchased a controlling interest in the mine. In closing the purchase Smith did not act individually but for the Honolulu hui.

The Blaine is a gold silver proposition or rather it is a gold proposition with small silver values for the silver contents in the nine samples assayed 59 cents to $1.98, the average for all the samples in gold and silver being $26.30 a ton.

The property acquired by these Honoluluans has had a large amount of development done and has much ore in sight and ready for shipment. Much of this ore is above the tunnel and will be brought out by gravity. It is 20 miles from Ely and three and one-half from the railroad and ore can be shipped to Salt Lake for treatment at about $3 a ton. It is said to be now ready to enter into active production. It consists of 4 full claims of 80 acres and flings may be made on adjacent property.

Members of the hui say that there will be no company incorporated here, that there will be no stock issued and that the mine will be worked by and for them for their own interests and the public will not be invited in. It needs no financing and is a personal business asset of its new owners. Smith is merely one of the hui and is not the individual purchaser of the property.
